COVID-19 has wreaked havoc across South East Asia and around the globe. As a result, many business operations have had to change the way they manage their commercial, institutional and hospitality cleaning operations, which includes a greater emphasis on protecting occupant health.

The ISSA Global Biorisk Symposium ASEAN addresses a variety of hot topics resulting from the current challenges and solutions to cleaning and disinfecting in the property management and hospitality industries worldwide in aims to prevent future global pandemic outbreaks.

Join ISSA Global Biorisk Symposium ASEAN as we work together to strengthen the future of cleaning across the ASEAN facility market and, more importantly – the world.
